real estate ownership and vacation trends. He found that fewer than three percent of people who seriously consider purchasing a vacation home actually do so and looked to fulﬁll a unique but growing consumer demand for an ideal home away from home. His research showed the primary reason for not buying a vacation home was to avoid ?feeling tied-down? to a single resort. Rob?s pioneering concept provided the ﬁrst ﬂexible lifestyle solution for aﬄuent travelers who wanted to experience the world?s most desirable destinations without sacriﬁcing the privacy of a beautiful home or service and luxury associated with ﬁve-star resorts. The concept he began in 1998 grew to a more than billion-dollar industry in just seven years. His company continues to lead the way with unparalleled product lines beyond destination clubs. Vincent: The Life & Death of Vincent Van Gogh. Color. 99 mins. Video Released Sep. 2005. Directed by Paul Cox. One of the Top 10 documentaries the year it was released, this brilliant portrait of Vincent Van Gogh is a shattering journey through the life of a tortured genius who, spurned in his own time, became the single most influential artist of modern history. Though he created 1,800 works during his decade-long career, he sold only one painting in his lifetime. The story of his turbulent, often painful life is told through his own letters, written to his brother Theo from 1872 until his death in 1890, eloquently read by actor John Hurt. Van Gogh's inner struggles and development as an artist are punctuated by his sketches, drawings and paintings, from his failed foray into the clergy and his days as a young artist in Paris to his descent into madness in the South of France and his death by his brother's side. New Video Group, Inc. DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-7670-8339-3(3), Order #: NVG9743, UPC: 767685974339) $26.95.

Violence Against Women: A Violation of Human Rights. (1995). Women's Studies. Civil Rights. (YA). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Video Released Sep. 1995. Violence against women is a global issue. Its dimensions are physical, emotional, economic, social & political. The systemic condoning of many forms of violence causes untold suffering & keeps millions of women from exercising their full human potential. In February of 1993, women from Asia, Africa, Europe & North & South America assembled at the Church Center for the United Nations to testify about the violence & abuse suffered by women throughout the world. The speaker raised common themes of economic deprivation, domestic violence, legal discrimination, forced prostitution, genital mutilation & specific targeting of women for abuse in times of war. Institute For Development Training. VHS, pap., stu. ed. (ISBN: 978-0-9679508-1-5(3)) $24.95.

The Virgin Queen, 2 cass. Color. 230 mins. CC (YA). NR. Video Released Feb. 2006. As The Virgin Queen begins, a young Elizabeth is imprisoned in the Tower of London by Queen Mary, charged with conspiracy and treason. Both women are daughters of the ruthless and oft-married Henry VIII, who plunged England into turmoil by breaking with the Roman Catholic Church. Mary wants to reunite with Rome, while Elizabeth is determined to stand by her Protestant faith-a potentially fatal choice. But Elizabeth?s life takes an unexpected turn when Mary dies, leaving no heir to the throne. As the new queen, Elizabeth discovers the harsh realities of ruling a religiously divided nation and must learn to outwit her enemies and charm those who conspire to their own ends.Soon under pressure to secure a politically advantageous marriage, the coquettish Elizabeth rejects a string of eligible royal bachelors from abroad, openly preferring the burning affections of her childhood playmate, the athletic, handsome-and married-Robert Dudley. But is she toying with him as she is with her other suitors?Starring Anne-Marie Duff (The Aristocrats, The Magdalene Sisters) as the shrewd and captivating queen who defended her throne amidst an atmosphere of plotting and intrigue, torture and murder, The Virgin Queen is a riveting drama that explores the fascinating 44-year reign of Elizabeth I. Visit to the Sepulcher. Color. 29 mins. mins. CC Video Released Oct. 2002. It is the 12th century. Easter dawns along the Loire Valley of central France. A choirmaster has set to music the familiar story of the hesitant and mournful visit of the three Marys to the tomb of Christ. As the Easter sun rises, his play is performed in the church he loves and serves, the Abbaye St. Benoit de Fleury. Over several centuries, similar versions appear at Easter services in many European and British churches. During the French Revolution the original Fleury manuscript is brought to the library at Orleans for safekeeping, where it is treasured to this day.Now, this inspiring medieval music drama is lovingly resurrected in a touching performance filmed at the place of its birth: the peaceful Romanesque abbey on the Loire.Featuring a talented cast of soloists and the choirmen of the Washington Cathedral, with costumes and props drawn from medieval art, the Visit to the Sepulcher melts away the centuries to reveal the simple beauty of Christianity?s most sacred morning. Voices & Visions Vol. 1: Hart Crane, Walt Whitman, Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams. Poetry-Biography. 240 mins. A look at poet-physician William Carlos Williams, who established a distinctly American poem; at Hart Crane's preoccupation with technology & its human impact; at the controversial Ezra Pound, who became a leader of the Modernist movement & became enmeshed in economic & political ideals during World War II; & at the remarkable Whitman, including the eclectic sources of his poetry. Facets Multimedia, Inc. VHS. (Order #: S24315) $69.95.

Voices & Visions Vol. 2: Emily Dickinson, Marianne Moore, Elizabeth Bishop, Sylvia Plath. Poetry-Biography. 240 mins. Four unique, American women poets are covered - Period dramatic recreations evoke the domestic context in which Emily Dickinson wrote her metaphysical poetry. Poets & critics explain the "wild decorum" of Marianne Moore's unique style. Exotic documentary footage heightens the magical realism of Elizabeth Bishop's poems & explores her preoccupation with perception & the boundaries of consciousness. And archival footage of the 1950s pop culture chronicles Sylvia Plaths' historical environments & the complex relationship between her troubled life & work. Facets Multimedia, Inc. VHS. (Order #: S24316) $69.95.

Voices & Visions Vol. 3: T. S. Eliot, Robert Lowell, Langston Hughes, Robert Frost, Wallace Stevens, 5 cass. Poetry-Biography. 300 mins. Trace the career of T. S. Eliot from the bold originality of "Prufrock" to the meditative style of "Four Quartets." Contains footage of Robert Lowell in his apartment & on anti-war protest marches, intercut with interviews that discuss his use of autobiography as subject matter for poetry. On-location footage in Senegal, France, Kansas & Harlem chronicles the life of Langston Hughes. Through his lyric poems & dramatic narratives, Robert Frost asserts that nature is the clearest window into the human personality. And presentations of the works of Wallace Stevens reveal his sense of imagination as a journey to a new reality. Facets Multimedia, Inc. VHS, Set. (Order #: S24317) $89.95.

Voices in Celebration. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. 45 mins. Video Released May 1991. Gives viewers an understanding of how the National Gallery functions today as one of the world's preeminent houses of art. Allows viewers to relive some of the Gallery's history from opening night in 1941. Viewers will also meet the man called 'the heartbeat" of the Gallery today, Director Carter Brown. "Voices in Celebration" also demonstrates the hunt for artwork for exhibition, the painstaking work that goes into designing an exhibit. Just getting the objects to the National Gallery is a job in itself requiring maximum security & organization. Not all art is in exhibition shape, & the Gallery's conservation lab restores & protects the delicate objects. The National Gallery serves as more than just a showcase. The video demonstrates the other aspects of the Gallery such as educational programs, concerts & public receptions. The National Gallery is a complex national treasure, & "Voices in Celebration" offers a rare chance to become better acquainted with the Gallery. Public Media, Inc. (Public Media Video). Voices of Workfare. (1998). Political Science. Color. 13 mins. (YA). Video Released Mar. 1998. Produced by Gail Aska, James Barry, Jyoti Mistry, Laxiuste Cajuste, Carl Bertin, Leslie Park. A look at the Work Experience Program (WEP) & its impact on welfare recipients who now have to work in order to get their benefits. While the Giuliani administration claims that what welfare recipients need is working experience, this video indicates that the WEP does not provide workers with any kind of experience with real market value. The documentary shows that Workfare, as it is commonly known, is actually creating a sub class of workers who are paid below minimum wages & haven't been organized in any way so far. Interviews WEP workers, advocates & the public in general. Educational Video Ctr. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56139-049-6(6)) $75.00.

Voices of 3 Political Prisoners: Nuh Washington, Jalil Muntaqim & David Gilbert, 1 disc. 70 mins. mins. Non-Profit. (English). Video Released Mar. 2006. Produced by Claude Marks. Nuh Washington ? Call Me Nuh & Last Statement Albert 'Nuh' Washington passed away April 28, 2000, at the Regional Medical Unit at Coxsackie Correctional Facility.Nuh (the Arabic form of Noah) was a committed member of the Black Panther Party and was arrested on August 28, 1971 in San Francisco.Call Me Nuh is based on an interview done with Nuh Washington in 1988 by Fiona Boneham and Paper Tiger TV and produced and edited by Lisa Rudman and Claude Marks in March, 2000. This was originally shown in Oakland, CA at a tribute to him on March 21, 2000, shortly before his passing. Nuh?s ?last statement? was recorded for that same event. Each video runs 10 minutes. Jail Muntaqim ? Voice of LiberationThis 20-minute documentary was edited & produced in November 2002 by Eve Goldberg and Claude Marks, based on an interview done in August 2000 by John O'Reilly and Nina Dibner. Jalil Abdul Muntaqim (formerly Anthony Bottom) was 19 years old when he was arrested at the same time as Nuh Washington. He is a former member of the Black Panther Party and is one of the longest held political prisoners in the world. This documentary is a unique opportunity to visit and hear Jalil's story.David Gilbert ? A Lifetime of StruggleThis 30-minute video was edited in March 2002 by Claude Marks and Lisa Rudman, and is based on an interview done in July of 1998 at Great Meadows Prison, Comstock, New York by Sam Green and Bill Siegel. Camera: Federico Salsano.This is a rare opportunity to go behind prison walls for a discussion with David Gilbert, a lifelong anti-imperialist activist and former member of the Weather Underground Organization. David is now serving a life sentence in prison for activities in support of the Black Liberation Movement. He explains why he joined the movement, what led him to go underground, and frankly discusses the strengths and errors of the movement and the WUO. Freedom Archives, The. DVD. From the MTA Education Seminar 2005 - Technical Analysis UniversityIncrease your professional financial skill set by adding technical toolsOur Technical Analysis University faculty consists of five of the most well-known technicians in the world. This session is designed for portfolio managers and fundamental analysts who are looking for an intensive one-day course on technical analysis. In just one day, attendees will come away with an understanding of how various charts are constructed and interpreted. The course will cover integrating technical analysis with fundamental analysis and using technical analysis to quickly get an overall sense of the direction of the equity, fixed income, commodity and currency markets, and use movements in one to forecast another.This one-day event, captured on disc, brings together five notable technicians to educate newcomers to technical analysis on the basics of technical analysis in a series of five one-hour classes. Topics range from basic chart construction, to advanced charting such as point & figure and Japanese candle charting.Attendees, and now viewers, will learn from one of the most experienced individuals to hold both the CFA and CMT charters on how to meld these two approaches to identify promising investment opportunities. Legendary technician John Murphy wraps up the day with a session on intermarket analysis, explaining how the charts of commodity, currency, bond and equity markets can be used in conjunction with one another to get a broad overall read of the state and likely future direction of global markets. The presentations include a significant amount of time for one-on-one interactions as well as Q&A opportunities with these technicians. Marketplace Bks., Inc. DVD. Walk This Way: Exploring Tolerance, Diversity & Difference, 3 cass.; set. (1999). Civics. Sociology. Color. 39 mins. (J). Age: 8-13. (gr. 3-8). G. Video Released Sep. 1999. Voice by Susan Sarandon. Interweaving the stories of an ethnically diverse group of children, Walk This Way shows how acts of discrimination can be turned into positive lessons of affirmation & hope & introduces viewers to children who are blazing their own trails by understanding & appreciating what it means to be different. This three-part series introduces young viewers to the stories of nine children between the ages of 9 & 11, each of whom relates a personal story of how they witnessed or were the "victim" of an act of unkindness merely because they were perceived to be different. We meet children like Carl, a nine-year-old with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD). Before he was diagnosed, Carl felt he was inferior to other kids. Other children teased him, calling him "Crazy Carl." We also meet eleven-year-old Yanili Hernandez, daughter of migrant workers, who describes what it's like coming from a Spanish speaking country & trying to learn English & make new friends. Another eleven-year-old, Nicole Cannizzaro, poignantly describes her reaction to a hate crime in her own town when KKK was spray painted on a neighbor's house. In each case, viewers learn the impact of these incidents on the children - how they rose above their painful situations and what they consequently learned about their own treatment of others. Walker. (1987). Color. 94 mins. Video Released Feb. 2008. Directed by Alex Cox. A hallucinatory biopic that breaks all cinematic conventions, Walker, from British director Alex Cox (Repo Man, Sid & Nancy), tells the story of nineteenth-century American adventurer William Walker (Ed Harris), who abandoned a series of careers in law, politics, journalism, and medicine to become a soldier of fortune, and for several years dictator of Nicaragua. Made with mad abandon and political acuity - and the support of the Sandinista army and government during the Contra war - the film uses this true tale as a satirical attack on American ultrapatriotism and a freewheeling condemnation of "manifest destiny." Featuring a powerful score by Joe Strummer and a performance of intense, repressed rage by Harris, Walker remains one of Cox's most daring works. Criterion Collection. DVD. Wall of Silence (Totschweigen) (1995). World War, 1939-1945. Jewish History. Color. 58 mins. Group. (German, Subtitled: English). The town of Rechnitz, nestled on the Austrian/Hungarian border, was the site for one of the last evils the Nazis would perpetrate, ten days before the end of World War II. In a final frenzy of alcohol-abetted hatred, a group of German & Austrian Nazis forced 180 Hungarian Jews to dig their own graves, then shot them. In other words, the unspeakable happened, & those who want to speak about it are hard to come by. "Wall of Silence" documents the quest of a few to locate the mass grave & provide a proper burial, but its real purpose is to expose the barricade of complicit silence surrounding the executions. Warning Shadows: A Nocturnal Hallucination (CHATTEN: Eine Nächtliche Halluzination) (1923). B&W. 85 mins. Video Released Jul. 2006. Directed by Arthur Robison. Featuring Gustav Van Wangenheim. German expressionist cinema was at its height in the 1920s, and few films embodied the movement as much as Warning Shadows. Directed by Arthur Robison, this classic tale of psychological horror remains his best known work, celebrated for its outrageous visual style and notorious for its attempt to make a purely visual feature film - in other words, a film with no intertitles (except, of course, the opening credits). A mysterious traveler and illusionist who performs shadow puppetry arrives to provide some entertainment at an otherwise routine dinner party. The host of the party is already mad with jealousy over the presence of his wife's four suitors, but when the puppet show begins, passions overtake reason and reality is not what it appears to be. Shadows, reflections and silhouettes are the dominant imagery, and the film boasts the extraordinary camerawork of Fritz Arno Wagner, the German cinematographer who is renowned for his work with Fritz Lang (Spies, M) and F.W. Murnau (Nosferatu). Kino on Video. DVD. (UPC: 7 3832904652 1) $29.95.

Warsaw Ghetto. (1969). History, Continental European. Jewish History. World War, 1939-1945. B&W. 51 mins. Budget Video. VHS. $29.95; Beta. $29.95.

The Warsaw Ghetto. (1969). World War, 1939-1945. Jewish History. History, Continental European. 52 mins. Taken in part from the photo albums & cinefilms of Nazi Heinrich Himmler, this production augments those images with an extremely rare collection of newsreel footage depicting the Warsaw ghetto during the Nazi occupation of Poland. From its inception to its fiery demolition in 1943, this film documents the lives of the over 500,000 Jews who were crowded into the one-square-mile area that was the Warsaw Ghetto, put to work by the Third Reich in Nazi factories, & given only fractions of the rations allowed to "Aryan" Germans & Poles. Facets Multimedia, Inc. VHS. (Order #: S05179) $29.95.

The Warsaw Ghetto Uprising. World War, 1939-1945. Jewish History. History, Continental European. Color. 23 mins. (Narrated: English). Warships: Historic U. S. Navy Films 1898-1941: Anchor's Away. 1. B&W. 94 mins. Age: 11-UP. Home. NR. (Narrated: English). Video Released May 2006. Seapower shaped the destiny of the United States in the 20th Century. Admiral Dewey's triumph at Manila in 1898 heralded a new era for the U.S. Navy. By 1941, it was one of the most powerful on earth. Featured on this DVD are 12 rare and historic films made by and for the U.S. Navy during the critical decades before WWII. Go "cruising with our Navy" in the Atlantic and Pacific, and join the Asiatic Fleet near Shanghai. See original newsreels of the fight against the U-boat menace in WWI, and the development of the first aircraft carrier USS Langley. Witness the attack against the gunboat USS Panay that nearly provoked war four years before Pearl Harbor. Please note, some films are silent pictures with intertitles and historic music soundtracks. Digitally remastered and restored from original 16mm prints. Because of the age and rarity of these films, image and sound quality can vary. Periscope Film, LLC. DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-9786388-6-3(7)) $24.99.

Wartime Homefront. World War, 1939-1945. History, British Isles. B&W. 81 mins. (British Documentary Movement Ser.: Vol. 4). Directed by Harry Watt, Humphrey Jennings. Kino on Video. VHS. (UPC: 738329007317) $29.95.

Wartime Homefront: London Can Take It - 1940; Fires Were Started - 1943. World War, 1939-1945. History, World. History, British Isles. Great Britain. B&W. 81 mins. (British Documentary Movement Ser.: Vol. 4). In these two magnificent films about wartime England, Humphrey Jennings looks for what was quintessentially British in London's heroic resistance to the Blitz. Understated, "London Can Take It" often finds humour in settings more typically depicted as tragic. "Fires Were Started" was Jenning's sole feature-length effort of the war. Widely considered a masterpiece, the longer rarely seen version included here has an immediate impact when viewed in the United States enabling FDR to slant his foreign policy more towards England's needs. International Historic Films, Inc. VHS. (Order #: R-417) $29.95.

Wartime Moments. World War, 1939-1945. History, World. History, British Isles. (British Documentary Movement Ser.: Vol. 5). Includes: Listen to Britain, 1942; Target for Tonight, 1941; & A Diary for Timothy, 1945. Kino International Corp. VHS. (UPC: 7 38329 00732 4) $29.95.

Wartime Moments. World War, 1939-1945. B&W. 107 mins. (British Documentary Movement Ser.: Vol. 5). Directed by Humphrey Jennings, Stewart McAllister, Harry Watt. Kino on Video. VHS. (UPC: 738329007324) $29.95.

Wartime Moments: Listen to Britain - 1942; Target for Tonight - 1941; A Diary for Timothy - 1945. World War, 1939-1945. History, World. History, British Isles. Great Britain. B&W. 107 mins. (British Documentary Movement Ser.: Vol. 5). Throughout World War II Britain's film poet, Humphrey Jennings, concentrated on the homefront & the way men, women & children lived their lives. "Listen to Britain" celebrates the perseverance of everyday life in the face of war. "A Diary for Timothy," made late in the war, contrasts the reportage on the war with elegiac narration on what kind of world will emerge at the end. Many members of the G.P.O. were critical of Jenning's work. "Target for Tonight" was more to their liking. A beautiful reenactment of a British aircraft offensive, it is one of Jenning's most popular films. International Historic Films, Inc. VHS. (Order #: R-418) $29.95.

We Shall Not Be Moved-DVD. Color. 44, 60, 90 mins. Video Released Oct. 2004. Includes all three versions: 44 minutes, 60 minutes, 90 minutesMany documentaries have been made about the American Civil Rights Movement. But for the first time, in We Shall Not Be Moved, the movement is examined from the perspective of African-American churches ? which played pivotal roles during this amazing period of U.S. history. Serving as ?war room,? where strategy was conceived and planned, these churches also provided moral and spiritual support to the thousands actively involved in the cause. On occasion, they became the vanguards of the very battle itself.Among the churches highlighted in this program are: Dexter Avenue Baptist in Montgomery, AL; 16th Street Baptist, Birmingham, AL; Brown Chapel AME, Selma, AL; and Ebenezer Baptist, Atlanta, GA. Built on testimonies of pastors, activists, church members and other participants, We Shall Not Be Moved recalls the events particular to each church, providing spiritual ? as well as historical ? perspective on their roles in the struggle to end racial inequality in America. Vision Video. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-861-8(X)) $19.99.

We the People. (1992). Native Americans. Color. 23 mins. (YA). Video Released Jun. 1992. Directed by Pam Sporn. Contribution by Julius Bogan, Ahmed Jemal Edwards, Rhadamas Henry, John Palakas, Deirdre Reed, Raul Torres, Nichole Wynter, Michelle Hernandez. Although Native Americans are in fact the true indigenous people of this country, little is seen about them beyond the stereotypes depicted in cartoons, liquor & cigarette advertisements. EVC students attempt to analyze some of these stereotypes by interviewing native teens, cultural critics & political activists who strive daily to overcome the obstacles created since they were first discovered by Christopher Columbus. One myth is that contemporary Native Americans live between two cultures, in effect "walk in two worlds." A theory is verified that a long term, historical relationship persevered between Native tribes & African slaves & that they, in fact, co-existed peacefully for generations. Educational Video Ctr. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-56139-074-8(7)) $75.00.

West 47th Street, 1. 83 minutes mins. NR. Video Released Mar. 2001. Directed by Bill Lichtenstein, June Peoples. Produced by Lichtenstein Creative Media. Producers Bill Lichtenstein and June Peoples set out to document the lives of people with mental illness as never been done before. They followed four people as their lives naturally unfolded, over three years. The result is West 47th Street, a warm and intimate documentary film which presents a story about people who approach tremendous obstacles with humor, optimism and grace. At times hilarious and at other times tragic, West 47th Street represents a radical return to cinema verite documentary style, without interviews or narration. The film was set at Fountain House, an internationally renowned rehabilitation program for people with serious mental illness located in New York City's Hell's Kitchen. Prior to filming, Bill Lichtenstein and June Peoples spent more than three months working side-by-side with members of Fountain House, where they developed the relationships that led to remarkable access. The filmmakers shot more than 350 hours of high-resolution digital videotape for this project. The film relies on the camera's neutral eye to follow its characters through their daily lives in true cinema verite documentary form. West 47th Street was broadcast nationally on the highly-acclaimed PBS TV program P.O.V. in August 2003, and was accompanied by a major educational outreach campaign, involving over 100 screenings across the country, including at Grand Rounds at Yale School of Medicine, on Native American reservations and for training homelessness workers. The film was winner of "Best Documentary" at the Atlanta Film Festival, received honorable mention at the Woodstock Film Festival and won the "Audience Award" at DC Independent Film Festival. West 47th Street has sold out theatres across the U.S., and internationally from Vancouver to Dublin to Paris to South Korea. It was called "must see" by Newsweek and "remarkable" by the Washington Post. The subject of West 47th Street hits close to home for producer Bill Lichtenstein, whose career as an ABC news producer came to a halt over ten years ago when he was diagnosed with manic depression. Following his recovery, Bill was determined to educate people about mental illness. His work included the Peabody Award-winning ?Voices of an Illness,? radio documentary series, which Time magazine called ?remarkable,? and which inspired the production of West 47th Street as a way to present a more compassionate, personal and engaging portrayal of people with mental illness. Lichtenstein Creative Media, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-888064-99-5(4)) $39.00.

The Western Corn Rootworm. 14 minutes mins. (Croatian). Video Released Jun. 2005. Author Rolf P. Stumm. Editor Joachim Moeser, Stefan Vidal, Ulrich Kuhlmann. In economic terms, one of the most important pests of maize is the Western Corn Rootworm Diabrotica virgifera virgifera, a native of Central America. In the cornbelt of the USA, it has caused severe yield losses for decades. Now it is also spreading in Europe.In a combination of fascinating macro sequences and 3D animations, this educational film impressively illustrates the life-cycle of this pest. The overwintering eggs start to hatch into larvae in late spring at about the time that the maize crop is in the 4 ? 6 leaf stage of development. The larvae feed for 3 ? 4 weeks on maize roots, during which time they pass through three instar stages. At maturity, the third larval instars turn into pupae, which are inactive for a week or two. The pupae then turn into adult beetles, which emerge from the soil about the time the maize begins to flower. The adult beetles feed on maize foliage, pollen, and silks. They can be active for up to 12 weeks, during which time they feed, mate and deposit their eggs. American Phytopathological Society. DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-89054-331-3(3)) $99.00.

Western N. Y. Nature - Faces of Winter. (1991). Nature And Wildlife. Color. 60 mins. G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Feb. 1991. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Hal Poole, John Thies. Narrated by William S. Poole. The program has a quick-glance preview feature at the beginning of the tape. This shows a split-second view of many of the scenes in the program. What is not shown in this program's quick-glance scenes is some introductory new footage of Spring, Summer, & Fall. After several minutes of each warm season you are led through hundreds of scenes of the many changing aspects of winter. There are snow days & no-snow days, some warm spells with much fog, & bodies of water with visiting migrating water fowl. See a group of gulls grow too large for the thin ice on which they are standing. Thunder Rocks in Allegany State Park is seen blanketed in snow. You'll view micro-scenes as ice, water, & snow interact along woodland brooks. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-06-6(2)) $15.00.

Western N. Y. Nature - Summer-Fall, 1989. (1990). Nature And Wildlife. Color. 62 mins. G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Nov. 1990. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Christina Nelson. Narrated by William S. Poole. The program has a quick-glance preview feature at the beginning of the tape. This shows a split-second view of many of the scenes in the program. You will see numerous insects & summer-through-autumn wild flowers (including the albino Indian pipe). Visit ponds that have whirligig beetles, painted turtles, & diving kingfishers. See underwater views of leeches, a waterscorpion, water lilies, clams, & a male water bug with eggs glued to its back. Watch young crows fighting over a snake. A garter snake holds its breath for 10 minutes, then balloons! There are beautiful sunrises & terrific sunsets. And, toward the end of the program, lots of scenes of the autumn tree colors. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-05-9(4)) $15.00.

Western N. Y. Nature - Tranquil, Serene & Calm: Gifts from Nature. (1991). Nature And Wildlife. Color. 60 mins. G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Mar. 1991. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Hal Poole. You can enjoy the scenes in this video program, with their natural (actual) sounds, anytime, but they are especially helpful because of their soothing qualities when applied to jangled nerves. Start with a pond sunrise & birds calling. Then absorb the sights of woodland wildflowers, a rivulet through a woods, & bird sounds. Next, a small waterfall, beautiful woodducks, creeks, brooks, & more wildflowers. See & hear - "feel" - gentle waves along the Lake Erie shore at dusk. Watch shale water courses above Chautauqua Gorge, a fish-catching heron on a foggy beaver pond, & a mallard duck lazily adrift on a pond. Finish these delights with a beautiful creek waterfall. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-07-3(0)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - A Kaleidoscope of Water. (1992). Travel And Travel Guides. Nature And Wildlife. Color. 60 mins. Age: 10-UP. (gr. 5 up). G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Apr. 1992. Directed by William S. Poole. Composed by Hal Poole. This video visits relaxing scenes which contain water in its various forms. All scenes are accompanied by the natural sounds from the location. Start with foggy sunrise-time. Move from that to glances of a woodland brook. Then enter the myriad visions presented as water flows down two interesting W. N.Y. gorges; Ripley Groge & Canadaway Creek Gorge. The culmination of the tour in the Canadaway is a look at Arkwright Falls. Shift to a sun-drenched pond & watch reflections on a great blue heron. The program's finale is the gentle lapping waves of a long, slow, Lake Erie sunset from such a low angle you should feel like you're lying on the beach with your feet in the warm water. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-12-7(7)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - Birds.Bird Vocals.And 16 Days At a Killdeer Nest. (1991). Travel And Travel Guides. Birds. Color. 60 mins. G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Dec. 1991. William S. Poole. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Steve Maggio. Composed by William S. Poole. I have collected many beautiful scenes & sounds of some of our local birds. From the raucous behavior of Canada Geese in wetlands & Great Blue Heron at a nesting colony to the more melodious songsbirds. Some of the other birds included are; common flicker, song sparrow, rufous-sided towhee, house wren, northern water thrush, hairy woodpecker, American goldfinch, eastern medowlark, brown thrasher, gray catbird, rusty blackbird, ring-necked pheasant, American robin, tree swallow, red-winged blackbird, common grackle, chipping sparrow, eastern kingbird, indigo bunting, & killdeer. Enclosed is a printed list of the birds & dates of observations. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-08-0(9)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - Spring Wildflowers, No. 1. (1992). Nature And Wildlife. Travel And Travel Guides. Color. 60 mins. Age: 10-UP. (gr. 5 up). G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Apr. 1992. William S. Poole. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Joyce Shelgren, Milt Shelgren. Composed by William S. Poole. This can be used to learn some of our local Flowering plants. The plants are common to much of the northeastern U.S. Each wildflower program looks at the plants chronoligically through the spring. It begins with those typically found in April or early May-depending on local weather conditions for the transition of seasons. THERE IS A LIST OF THE WILDFLOWERS ON THE BACK OF EACH CASSETTE BOX. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-10-3(0)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - Spring Wildflowers, No. 2. (1992). Nature And Wildlife. Travel And Travel Guides. Color. 60 mins. Age: 10-UP. (gr. 5 up). G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Apr. 1992. William S. Poole. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Joyce Shelgren, Milt Shelgren. Composed by William S. Poole. You will get information about the plant's habitat, close-up shots of its leaves, stem & flower, & see the color of the plant & flower. Each scene lasts long enough to mentally absorb the "look" of the specimen before going on to another. There are usually 3-4 scenes per specimen. The sounds of brooks, birds, amphibians, etc., that accompany the footage make this program enjoyable to watch. THERE IS A LIST OF THE WILDFLOWERS ON THE BACK OF EACH CASSETTE BOX. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-11-0(9)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - The Great Gray Owl. (1992). Nature And Wildlife. Birds. Color. 60 mins. Age: 10-UP. (gr. 5 up). G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Apr. 1992. Directed by William S. Poole. Composed by William S. Poole. This remarkable bird visited the Southwestern N.Y. area in the winter of 1992. While watching it sleep by day, stretch toward dusk, cough up a pellet of hair & bone from yesterday's meals, preen, & then sit above a field watching & listening for prey, you'd never guess it was such a successful killing machine. Most of us have never experienced a closeness with a wild bird this size. At 2 & 1/2 feet, it is North America's largest owl. The great gray owl has no fear of people. I have recorded scenes of many of its behaviors, some in super close-up. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-13-4(5)) $15.00.

Western N.Y. Nature - 2-Hour-Old-Killdeer.More Birds.More Vocals. (1991). Nature And Wildlife. Birds. Color. 60 mins. G. Made-for-Video. Video Released Dec. 1991. William S. Poole. Directed by William S. Poole. Contribution by Tom Simmons. Composed by William S. Poole. With the use of a powerful telephoto lens added onto my camcorder I have collected many beautiful scenes & sounds of some of our local birds. The lead-off in this program is the continuation of the killdeer nest story begun in program 9. You will see the rapid development of walking ability in the hours-old killdeer young. The events capping their first day are recorded here. Then some follow-up footage shows them over the week following hatching. The remainder of the program looks at a variety of birds. You will see wood duck & Canada geese hatchlings. Listen to the beautiful melody of the wood thrush. Watch birds on their perches as they sing. Enclosed is a printed list of birds & dates of observation. Creek Rock Productions. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-880340-09-7(7)) $15.00.

Whales! Animals. Nature And Wildlife. Color. 60 mins. (National Audubon Society Specials Ser.). CC Hosted by Johnny Carson. Over centuries, whalers nearly wiped out the sperm & right whales, hunting them for their valuable blubber, oil & bone. Fortunately, today, demand for most whale products has been replaced by manufactured synthetics. This program celebrates our new fascination with watching whales & the decline of hunting them. Little is known about the biology & behavior of whales, but scientific studies may help protect whales from new threats, such as entanglement in fishing nets & collisions with ships. This program highlights a recent study of the North American right whale. From the camera's close vantage point, viewers see the huge creatures as they swim, spout, breach & breed. Public Broadcasting Service (PBS). VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-7936-0199-8(1), Order #: NTAS-303) $59.95.

When God Is Hiding. Color. 26 mins. mins. Video Released Mar. 2003. One of the most beloved authors of our day, Philip Yancey has never shied away from the toughest subjects. In this discussion Yancey explores why tragic events happen in our lives and in our world. True-to-form in this revealing discussion, Yancey, beginning with the tragedy of 9/11 and the World Trade Towers, explores why tragic events happen in our lives and in our world. Yancey further discloses how many of his books came about because he questioned his doubts as much as he questioned his faith. Having grown up in a legalistic church, Yancey began to explore the church?s appoach to faith. Viewers will find his concept of separating faith from church fascinating, probably insightful, and possibly disturbing. Yancey?s struggle in this arena led him to write, How My Faith Survived the Church.Yancey shows why he enjoys speaking at colleges where he challenges skeptics to find any argument against God that is not answered in the Bible. So whether you are a long-time reader or just discovering Philip Yancey, here is a feast of provocative and evocative thought from one of the most articulate. Vision Video. VHS. When Relationships Break. (1999). Interpersonal Relations. Color. 25 mins. (YA). Age: 13-17. (gr. 8-12). G. Video Released Sep. 1999. Breaking up can be a devastating emotional ordeal for teens because they have no prior experience upon which to draw. This video presents your students with a variety of stories from real teens. These candid, sometimes heartbreaking interviews will provide members of your classroom the opportunity to examine their own feelings about breaking up. A clinical psychologist helps your students understand what these feelings are all about & identifies some of the common stages that teens go through when they break up. These stages often include: denial, anger, bargaining, depression & acceptance. Also explored are the different ways that girls & boys treat breaking up & how this disparity can often create confusing, frustrating situations for both genders. Reassuring & comforting, the video & print package will aid teens in handling the normal but often disruptive issues of romantic break-ups. Human Relations Media. VHS. When the Sea Rises. (2004). Color. 9. mins. (French, Subtitled: English). Video Released Oct. 2006. Directed by Gilles Porte, Yolande Moreau. When the Sea Rises tells the story of Irene, an actress traveling from one small town to another with her one-woman show in rural-industrial northern France. Slyly funny in her masked onstage persona, Irene is a genial pro at touring along, phoning home to her husband and child and sleeping in a new hotel each night. Things change when a scooter-driving vagabond named Dries fixes her stalled car. What develops is a remarkably natural and tender affair between two true eccentrics, their exuberance and playfulness mixing with a mature, mutual longing. New Yorker Video. DVD. Will We Ever Learn? Aids (Disease). 52 mins. (Plagued Ser.: A Series on Disease and Society: Pt. 4). Group. Produced by Film Australia. 16th century Italy saw the scourge of a brutal epidemic of syphilis; it remained a deadly disease until the discovery of penicillin in the 20th century. When AIDS arrived in the 1980's, it found an unprotected community among gay men. There are many similarities between syphilis & AIDS. Syphilis, like AIDS, occurred in young people living in urban areas. The early stages of both diseases are difficult to recognize. Both diseases were considered shameful. Ironically, syphilis has re-emerged among the poor populations of our major cities. Shows the interaction between two epidemics, HIV & syphilis, fostered by drug use & prostitution. Winter Soldier. (1971). Color and B&W. 95 mins. CC Age: 16-UP. MRA. NR. (Subtitled: German, French). Video Released May 2006. Directed by Winter Film Collective Staff. January 31, 1971. More than 125 Vietnam veterans, representing every major combat unit to see action in the war, gathered at a Howard Johnson?s hotel in Detroit to heal a nation. and themselves. They risked everything ? their careers, their friendships, their families ? to talk about the atrocities they had committed or witnessed in the presence of officers while stationed in Vietnam. These veterans saw themselves as winter soldiers battling against the wrongs of the war and the brutal training that had made them capable of unthinkable violence. Eighteen filmmakers calling themselves the Winterfilm Collective ? including Barbara Kopple (Harlan County, USA), Robert Fiore (Pumping Iron) and Lucy Massie Phenix (You Got to Move) ? captured this extraordinary event. Rarely seen since its 1972 Cannes premiere,Winter Soldier has been called one of the most powerful anti-war films ever made and remains to this day a remarkable plea for peace.
